

Some Tips on PUBG's Miramar Map

: A few tips to survive in the Miramar map of PUBG. Take advantage of buildings, heights, and cover. Also, alternative landing places.

PASIG CITY, PHILIPPINES, March 22, 2018 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Being in a desert environment that is different from Erangel, there are sure to be different strategies for the Miramar map. Some things can stay the same too, such as staying away from the towns (where other players will likely flock to). So here are some tips to survive in this harsh desert.

Buildings are Your Friends

Yes, there are towns on the map, but there are smaller clusters of buildings scattered about the map. Aim for those little clumps of buildings, because they are often overlooked, and yet you'll still get good PUBG items from them. Just remember to close doors and keep low on windows to prevent others from ambushing you.

Another benefit of these buildings is cover. Since the desert isn't friendly with foliage cover, you're always exposed and always in danger of getting sniped in the head. Inside buildings, however, snipers have less chance of seeing you.

Heights are Your Friends, Too

A good vantage point is especially useful for snipers, but if you're not equipped, it's still an excellent place to survey an area. You can check for vehicles, other players, or possible loot locations. Just make sure you watch your back.

Use Whatever Cover You Can

Deserts are very sandy and not much else. Hence, when you find cover, use it, whatever it is. It could be a haystack, a broken off wall, or rusted unusable vehicles. Duck into and lean from behind cover, use any advantage they give.

Climb, Climb, Climb

With the new vaulting ability that got released along with this map, it's easier to climb up buildings to get a good vantage point. In addition to that, most of the hills on this map can be climbed, even if they don't look like it. A word of advice, make sure nobody's around to watch (and shoot you) as you climb.

Other Tips

Sure, the big towns are also great to land in, but everybody else will flock to them as well. If you want to avoid other players, you're better off in other areas. Speaking of which, near the northwestern corner is the Ruins. It's a little out of the way and very risky to go to the Ruins. However, the equipment you'll get from there should be worth it. Lastly, be careful of unusable vehicles, so you don't waste time checking and trying to use them.

Enjoy PUBG!
