

Intel Best PC Platform Award-Ace Computers Finalist

Ace Computers just announced that it is an award finalist for Intel Partner of the Year in the category PC Client Platform.

CHICAGO, ILL., US, March 22, 2018 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Ace Computers just announced that it is an award finalist for Intel Partner of the Year in the category PC Client Platform. The award recognizes the development of creative and customized client computing solutions. The winners were announced at this month's Intel Partner Connect event in Maryland.

Ace Computers CEO John Samborski said, "We work closely with Intel on a regular basis in order to integrate and fully leverage their products in the supercomputers, workstations, servers, and desktops we build for our clients. The platform that we were nominated for involved a deeper degree of collaboration that resulted in a highly effective client solution."

The Intel Technology Provider Partner of the Year Awards acknowledges the outstanding achievements of Intel's partners. Partner of the Year awards are given to U.S.-based partners who have demonstrated excellence in marketing, training, technology platform design and integrated solutions sales.

Winning organizations, recognized for their achievements in 2017, were announced at the 2018 Intel Partner Connect event, held in Maryland this March. Finalists joined Intel channel leaders for a private awards reception. "We are very grateful for this recognition," Samborski said, "We look forward to continuing the growth of our 35-year relationship with Intel in the year ahead."
