

Unique Opportunities for Film Distribution Companies at the World Film Fair!

Sometimes Film and TV distribution companies find it difficult to connect with new and exciting filmmakers, and be on hand to snap up their unique projects.

NEW YORK, NEW YORK, USA, March 26, 2018 /EINPresswire.com/ -- The World Film fair provides a forum where this can happen. In 2018, the World Film fair will take place between October 26th and 31st at the Brooklyn Expo Center in New York.

At the 2018 World Film fair attendees can confidently expect:

More than 3,000 New Films & Projects,
Approximately 2,000 Professionals from the Film Industry,
More than 500 buyers from more than 60 countries,
75 Film Festivals, both at the main venue and at other noteworthy New York theaters,
Representatives from more than 200 Production Companies.

In addition there will be:

Over 300 projects looking for investors,
More than 150 Distributors,
At least 200 Film Screenings in 5 of the best New York theaters,
More than 30 Investors looking for projects to sponsor,
50 Speakers from different sections of the Film Industry,
50 Workshops on a variety of film-related topics.

The World Film Fair takes place over a six day period and will welcome a variety of Film professionals from many parts of the world. Those companies associated with Film Distribution are cordially invited to rent a booth at the Fair. The booths can be used use as a center of operations for networking with the many filmmakers, scriptwriters and other members of the film industry who will be in attendance.

In 2018, the World Film fair will take place between October 26th and 31st at the Brooklyn Expo Center in New York.

As well as opportunities to establish new relationships, Film Distributors will be encouraged to view many of the screenings on offer. More than 75 film festivals will take place in unison with the Fair, and many highly regarded works will be shown, both at the main venue and at 5 well-known nearby theaters. The festivals will facilitate opportunities for distribution company representatives to view many unique and invigorating projects from around the world. After films have been shown there will be opportunities to discuss the works with the creators of the projects.

Of course the hubbub of a busy event may not be conducive to discussing business and negotiating deals. With this in mind, the World Film fair has arranged the availability of private meeting rooms, where communication and technological equipment will be on hand.

People who are employed by or indeed own a film distribution company should give serious consideration to being represented at the World Film Fair. To ensure that individual companies have a high profile at the Fair, please visit the website to find out the method of reserving a booth.

An extensive variety of booth packages are available for all budgets at the World Film Fair, for reservations and to ensure distributors are represented at this prestigious event - with the extensive business opportunities this will entail - act quickly and visit the website.
