

Dying for a good time?

Murder of the Month is a new way to find and try a recommended murder mystery dinner party game to host at home with friends and family.

GRIMSBY, N.E. LINCS, UNITED KINGDOM, April 2, 2018

/EINPresswire.com/ -- Running a murder mystery evening for the first time can be a bit daunting when you've never run one before.

But when Red Herring Games launch their "Murder of the Month" this April; it's definitely the time to give it a go.

Murder of the Month is a new way to find and try a recommended murder mystery dinner party game for the first time.

Each month a different best selling plot will go on sale at Amazon to introduce customers to the best in murder mystery game entertainment. Each game will be suitable for a dinner party for 12 and for a limited time will be available for less than half price.

"Murder at Curst Mansion" is one of our most popular games." Jo Smedley Managing Director of Red Herring Games said. "So we decided it should be the first kit to join our 'Murder of the Month' promotion."

Everyone loves the 1920s and indeed the decade has almost become synonymous with murder mysteries thanks the likes of Agatha Christie and Dorothy Sayers.

Murder at Curst Mansion is very much written in the style of the Golden Age of crime fiction and it's a great excuse for friends and family to channel their inner flapper.

Each box comes with full instructions, ideas for theming and everything you need to run the party:

invitations and envelopes, booklets for each character and even includes some recipe suggestions.

From Spring to Autumn Red Herring Games will be selecting some of their best selling games on Amazon to become "Murder of the Month". With themes ranging from mediaeval to modern day it means there really is going to be something for everyone.

Each kit is carefully content rated to ensure you get the right plot for your group and they are designed so that even total novices can play.

The firm also customise to order if you have an unusual number of guests, or even just unusual guests! But those customisations aren't possible within their special deal.

"Amazon doesn't provide the same level of customer support as we do." Jo Smedley said.

"Customers who want something unique usually shop with us direct. That's the benefits of a small independant business. Nothing is mass produced and everything we create can be customised to order. We adjust game titles, characters, game graphics, plot lines - you name it, we've done it. We've included peoples pets, funny stories from their family or business, and sometimes whole plot lines that relate to a particular family member. But we can't offer that service on our "Murder of the Month" deal. This is a special one off introductory offer available to new customers for a limited time only over the summer months."

Perfect for cold wet spring evenings, murder mystery dinner party games are becoming an increasingly popular form of home entertainment. Red Herring Games supply kits from 6 players right through to 200+ and are the go-to creation specialists for brand activation and conferences and events. With their special Murder of the Month offer they hope to introduce play at home murder mysteries to much wider audience thanks to Amazon's global reach. The Murder of the Month deals are running on Amazon.com and Amazon.co.uk
