The Golf Course Millionaire: How to Turn Relationships into Big Business through Golf

“

My life without golf is very difficult to imagine. The people I've met, the opportunities I've had, and the lessons I've learned through golf have made me stronger, happier, and more successful.”

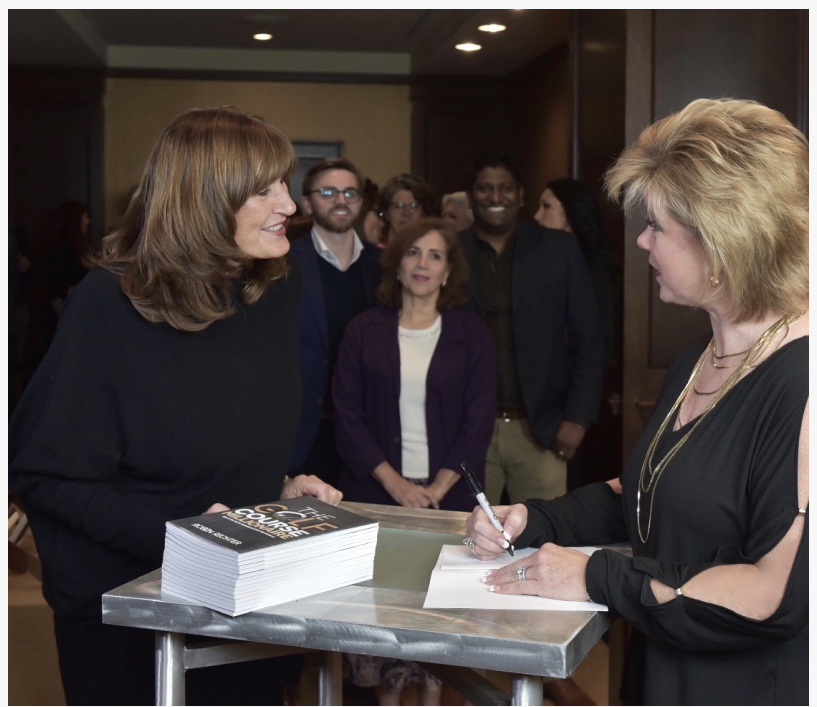

Robin Richter, Author of The Golf Course Millionaire

Robin was inspired to write this book because of the incredible impact golf has had on her life. After attending Long Beach State on a golf scholarship, Robin went on to play professionally. In 1992, Robin successfully used golf to launch her promotional products company, Wearable Imaging, Inc. Since then, Wearable Imaging has experienced significant growth. Wearable Imaging works with top clients such as Honda, Toyota, Lexus, Alzheimer's Orange County, Southern California Edison and ABC's Grey's Anatomy. Wearable Imaging specializes in maximizing their clients' brand exposure and helping businesses stand out in the marketplace.

Today, golf is still a major part of Robin's life. She participates in numerous charity golf tournaments and plays regularly with the ladies in the Executive Women's Golf Association (EWGA) and Women On Course (WOC). Robin is so thankful for the amazing opportunities that have come her way because of golf. Not only has golf contributed to the success of her business, it has led to many amazing personal relationships!
