About ECGC

The East Coast Game Conference (ECGC), the largest gathering of video game professionals on the east coast, returns for its tenth year. The focus of the conference is to provide video game developers an engaging program and opportunities for networking and collaboration. Building off of the great success in 2017, ECGC is bringing back Community Day on April 17th; which focuses on the students and families interested in learning more about the industry and potential jobs opportunities. In 2018, in addition to great keynote speakers, there will be plenty of networking opportunities with some of the greatest minds in the industry.
