Carl Kemp, CEO of StewardTech LLC, has announced that they will be giving away a completed turbine-powered GT-427 Cobra Replica from Ultimate Classic Cars.

GAINESVILLE, TX, USA, May 7, 2018 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Carl Kemp, CEO of StewardTech LLC, has announced that, as a part of their Indiegogo campaign they will be giving away a completed turbine-powered GT-427 Cobra Replica from Ultimate Classic Cars. "All you need to do is go to our Indiegogo campaign, and use the Indiegogo tools to spread the news across your social network about what we are doing", Kemp said. "Every person you refer gets you another chance at the car, and every person you refer who becomes a backer gets you 9 more chances. Also, 10% of all new contributions you refer go towards getting you the perks we offer." For example, if the total contributions of everyone you refer exceeds $1000, you get a working model turbine. If the total contributions of your referrals exceeds $10,000, you get a wind turbine-powered gazebo with charging station and a wireless repeater so your home office can move outdoors! Who knows? You might even wind up with a brand new, turbine-powered sports car, just for using your network to refer contributors to us! All campaign backers are also entered into the drawing.
