

Final places left for next weeks' Military Robotics and Autonomous Systems 2018

SMI reports: Registration is closing soon for SMI's Military Robotics and Autonomous Systems conference

LONDON, UNITED KINGDOM, April 18, 2018 /EINPresswire.com/ -- With just one week left until registration closes for SMI's Military Robotics and Autonomous Systems conference, this is the final chance for delegates to register.

This two-day conference, in London, will enable attendees to hear the latest military updates and expert briefings from across the globe, including those from the UK MoD, British Army, Israel Defence Forces, TARDEC - US Army, Finnish Defence Forces, FFI (Norwegian Defence Research Establishment), French DGA, US Marine Corps, US Army Research Laboratory, DSTL, Safran, IAI, QinetiQ, Endeavor Robotics, Vetronics Research Centre, Kings College London, Italian Institute of Technology, Free University of Brussels and more.

These additional briefings from academia, defence research and procurement agencies will allow delegates to benefit from a comprehensive approach to emerging autonomous and robotics technologies and will enable them to discuss and debate the role of unmanned technology in supporting land operations from both a top-level perspective and an end-user perspective.

Those who have registered for the conference can expect 5+ hours of networking with over 80 participants and 26+ military & expert speakers. The meeting will entail more than 15 hours of content and involve 21+ sessions with 2 interactive panel discussions.

Key topics from the event include Programme Updates, Autonomy, Robotics & UGVs, Military Applications of RAS, Academic Research, Supporting Dismounted Operations from RAS, Autonomy for Land Operations, Defence Research Panel.

Tickets are selling fast so SMi urges you to book soon, if you haven't already, visit www.robotics-autonomous.com/einnpr

The event is proudly sponsored by Endeavor Robotics, IAI, Safran and QinetiQ.
