

REVE Antivirus Users Need Not Worry About Data Loss

REVE Antivirus now comes with data backup feature, which backs up PC users data providing them a useful solution against mishaps.

SINGAPORE, April 27, 2018

/EINPresswire.com/ -- REVE Antivirus now comes with data backup feature, which backup PC users data, providing them a useful solution against mishaps. Data loss can result due to multiple reasons such as hard disk crash or corrupt OS etc., which cannot be predicted beforehand.

REVE Antivirus has brought a very robust solution to this issue by launching its data backup feature. With this feature, users can keep their data safe automatically as people often forget to take manual backup.

Backup can be kept on the PC and in an external hard drive. The external backup proves useful in cases of device loss, OS corrupt or hard disk crash. The Local backup feature is useful for day-to-day work when there are chances of files getting corrupt or deleted accidentally. The backup system supports all file formats such as jpg, pdf, xls, rtf, ppt, zip, csv etc.

We have added data backup feature in REVE Total Security, which is a complete security package. With data backup, there is less chance of data loss due to a hard disk crash or a Ransomware attack.”

Sanjit Chatterjee

REVE Antivirus CEO Mr. Sanjit Chatterjee commented on this new feature addition, “We have added the data backup feature in REVE Total Security, which is a complete security package for PC users. With data backup, now there is less chance of data loss due to a hard disk crash or a Ransomware attack.”
