OAKLAND, CALIFORNIA, UNITED STATES, April 30, 2018

/EINPresswire.com/ -- Collective2 (“C2”), the online trading strategy marketplace that connects investors with independent traders, announced today the public beta release of C2BROKER (“C2B”), the first-ever investment platform to offer hedge fund ideas with commission-free trading.

At C2BROKER, customers can automatically follow (“AutoTrade”) any equity or options trading strategies at C2 in their own C2B brokerage account without hidden fees, commissions, or complex pricing structures.

Low-cost or no-cost trading is nothing new. For the past decade, it has been a race to zero for transaction fees in trading. But what good is saving money if you don’t know what or when to buy?”

Thousands of trading strategies have been tracked by the Collective2 platform. Investors can examine these track records, and — if they see one they like — link it to a C2BROKER account so that trades are executed automatically. C2B accounts continue to be self-directed. Customers have the ability to turn on and off strategies, add new strategies, manage trades, and control trade sizes, all in real-time.

About Collective2

Founded in 2001, Collective2 is the world’s largest marketplace of trading strategies. Great traders from around the world ask Collective2 to track their trading results in real-time. Other investors can “subscribe” to these traders, and can automatically follow their trades in their own brokerage account. Over $75 million dollars of investor capital is linked to strategies on the Collective2 platform. For more information, please visit www.collective2.com.
