The German School of Connecticut is a private, non-profit school with branches in Stamford and West Hartford, CT. The school was the first German language school in the United States to be selected by the State Department of the German Government to administer the official Sprachdiplom I and II examinations. These exams, which are a pre-requisite to university matriculation in Germany, test the equivalency of ten and twelve years of German language study. The German School of Connecticut receives support from the German government, as well as local businesses and donors. In 2009 the school became one of the 66 US Partner Schools with Germany. The school has a German-language library.

The GSC School has awarded a scholarship for 1 year of German Classes at the school to a local student from the Rippowam Middle School and hope that it can continue to do this every year. The German School of CT (GSC) is proud to help the local community learn German and be part of the community and events in the area.
