Featured speakers include: Jane Velez Mitchell, Dr. Ted Crawford, Sailesh Rao, Kat Mendenhall, Linda Middlesworth, and Renee & Tommy Sonnen King. They will be discussing Veganism from a variety of perspectives including: The impact of factory farming on the environment and the health and ethical reasons for a plant based diet. They will also be discussing Veganism as a way of life, Emotionally, Mentally, Socially & Spiritually.

Texas Vegan May Fest is expecting over 300 people in attendance this year and "It's Jerky Yall" (<https://itsjerkyall.com>) is the event title sponsor.

Texas Vegan May Fest is founded by Renee King-Sonnen, a native Houstonian and the Executive Director & Founder of Rowdy Girl Sanctuary in Angleton, Texas. In October 2014, she went vegan as a result and began researching factory farming and the compassionate alternative, farm sanctuaries. Renee also created a sanctuary out of what was once a beef cattle operation in the heart of cattle country.

About Renee King-Sonnen

Renee King-Sonnen, a native Houstonian, is the Executive Director and Founder of Rowdy Girl Sanctuary. She remarried her husband Tommy Sonnen, a multi-generational cattle rancher in 2009 and moved to the ranch. She fell in love with farm animals, having no idea her life was about to transform. After witnessing time and again the baby calves going to the sale barn she became extremely depressed. In October 2014, she went vegan as a result and began researching factory farming and the compassionate alternative, farm sanctuaries. She desperately consulted with leaders in the vegan movement, determined to do whatever she could to create sanctuary out of what was once a beef cattle operation in the heart of cattle country.
