

Avis To List All Used Car Inventory On Free Automotive Listing Site UsedCarsForSale.com

Avis joins other automotive luminaries such as Hertz, Lithia Motors, Group 1 Automotive, and Larry H. Miller to list all inventory on www.usedcarsforsale.com.

AGOURA , CALIFORNIA, UNITED STATES, May 21, 2018

/EINPresswire.com/ -- Avis has joined several other automotive luminaries such as Hertz, Lithia Motors, Group 1 Automotive, and Larry H. Miller who are now listing their used car inventory on the free automotive classified site Www.UsedCarsForSale.com. The domain, originally purchased in June of 2017, is now the used car industries only free automotive classified site ever since Craigslist abandoned the practice and started charging for listings in 2014.

The site utilizes Google Best Practices by combining the highest level of SEO expertise with a very popular search query (used cars for sale) to generate its traffic and high organic rank. Inevitably, the site will organically out rank most of its competitors and used car dealers will see a substantial lift in high-quality, organic, serious-intent-to-buy traffic to their VDP pages at no cost to them. Dealers do not pay for leads or listing inventory, it's a basic package on an advanced classified platform that looks much more user-friendly than the current paid for classified websites that are by comparison, expensive and provide low quality leads.

We're very happy to have Avis on board, adding a great company like Avis to our base of dealerships provides us with more great inventory to serve our users.”

Steve Tackett

“ We're very happy to have Avis on board, and as we sign 150 other dealers per week, adding a great company like Avis to our base of dealerships provides us with more great inventory as well as coverage in which to provide car buyers a much wider variety of well maintained, pre-owned vehicles.” said Steve Tackett, the owner of UsedCarsForSale.com.

Currently, all a dealer has to do is contact a representative from UsedCardforSale.com to open an account. The process takes approximately five minutes and is completed once their inventory feed provider uploads the inventory to the site. Within a couple of weeks, the inventory appears on some of the most user-friendly classified pages on the web. It's a google best practices model that works like a charm with all of the necessary SEO elements built in to ensure that their inventory is presented in the most effective way possible - at no cost to them whatsoever. Tackett likes to call UsedCarsforSale.com the industries go-to classified site, and at the same price as the air we breathe, used car dealers seem to agree.
