COMO(R) new trees and animals for our children

The innovative tree set by COMO® enables children to build a realistic copy of needle trees and leaf trees

My first son and I had the idea to invent a brick that has six sides for building on. My second son already used the new COMO(R) blocks for building models inspired by famous movies.”

founder and CEO Frank Karl

With its COMO®-blocks the company Spartas UG revolutionizes the traditional brick world. For the first time it is possible to build movable animals using standard blocks. In addition there are new bricks of ideas having six(!) sides for building on in contrast to the just two sides of the old blocks. This opens up room for amazing building fun never seen before. With the "silver" Nature-Set children may build many different trees, plants, flowers and animals which they have seen while playing in the woods before.

Emotional contact to nature is very important for children.

Children see different kinds of trees in the woods and have a wonderful time using all of their senses. The COMO® Set "Tree" supports learning in a playful way and promotes the creativity of children by giving them new possibilities for building at the same time. Using the new COMO® blocks of ideas children can build on onto six sides. This enables them to build easily and realistically copies of trees and other plants as well as of green animals such as frogs, dinosaurs, birds or lizards. The COMO® Set "Tree" also includes colorful bricks which the kids may use to decorate their own Christmas tree at Christmas time.
