May 18, 2018 – Liberty Technology Advisors, Inc. (LTA) has acquired SoftwareWerks, LLC, a Chicago-based ERP software selection and business process consulting company. “SoftwareWerks has established itself as a significant and very respected professional firm in the ERP and IT consulting world. I am thrilled that Joe Ambrose and SoftwareWerks are joining the LTA team” stated Joel Schneider, President of Liberty Technology Advisors, Inc (LTA).

As a result, SoftwareWerks President, Joe Ambrose, has joined the LTA team executive team as their Practice Director, with direct responsibility for building and managing the growth and brand of LTA. Joe brings 25+ years of experience in leading technology, business process improvement, and organizational change initiatives and companies in a variety of industries. In addition, he has extensive experience in the ERP software space, including his role as President of an ERP consulting firm, with over 700 manufacturing and distribution customers in 15 states. “Over the years I have had the opportunity to get to know members of the LTA team and have experienced the high-quality work they deliver. I couldn’t be more excited about joining such an amazing team!” stated Joe Ambrose, President of SoftwareWerks.

With the acquisition of SoftwareWerks, LTA will add additional consulting services, exceptional consultants, an increased customer footprint throughout the United States, and a great reputation and brand in the enterprise software consulting industry.

About Liberty Technology Advisors, Inc. – LTA has been helping manufacturers, distributors, and companies from a variety of other industries streamline processes, improve operations, reduce costs and position them for growth for over 20 years. “Business. Done Better.” Isn’t just a motto at LTA, it is how we help our clients. LTA’s team of business operations and technology professionals – some of the most experienced people in the industry – develop efficient business processes and align technology to get their clients where they want to be.

About SoftwareWerks – SoftwareWerks is a Chicago based ERP Software Selection and business process consulting company focused on maximizing a mid-sized company’s investment in their enterprise software, implementation, and post-implementation strategy.
