

Gourmet Food & Wine Tours selected as one of '15 Best Foodie Tours in the USA'

Discover why U.S. News & World Report recommends taking a food and wine tour

YOUNTVILLE, CA, 94599, May 22, 2018 /EINPresswire.com/ -- To best experience the tastes and culture of Wine Country, one must fully immerse in the food and wine scene. But, with over 600 wineries and 5 Michelin star restaurants in Napa Valley alone, visitors struggle with decisions on which ones to visit. This daunting task is best left to the experts; U.S. News & World Report recently named Gourmet Food & Wine Tours one of "The 15 Best Foodie Tours in the USA."

Published in Best Foodie Cities in the USA, U.S. News & World Report wrote: "...Napa Valley beckons to gourmands and oenophiles. However, reserving a table at one of Napa's acclaimed dining venues can be challenging, so taking a foodie tour may be your best bet for scoring access. Gourmet Food and Wine Tours hosts two Napa-based culinary outings, including one in Yountville that offers a peek at The French Laundry's garden..."

Whether you book a private or group tour, the guest experience during a Gourmet Food & Wine Tours excursion will highlight one town during approximately 3 hours, with several wines and farm-to-table-courses. Locations for tours include Yountville, Napa, Sonoma, Sausalito and Tiburon.

TripAdvisor awarded a Certificate of Excellence to owner, Renee ReBell, who began Gourmet Food & Wine Tours in 2014. ReBell's authentic experiences are crafted to impart knowledge regarding relevant subjects prompted by local landmarks. Subjects covered include films, stories, history, and discussion on biodynamic farming.

"We are passionate about sharing special aspects of towns through remarkable food and wine," says Renee ReBell.

Additional tours include the Napa Food & Wine Tour in Yountville, with progressive pairings at Michelin-rated restaurants, and the Sonoma Plaza Flagship Tour, with four farm-to-table courses paired with local wines (featuring the girl & the fig restaurant). The Napa Riverfront Culinary Tour features The Culinary Institute of America at Copia, beginning at Julia Child's kitchen. More tours include the Sausalito Food & Wine Tour on Bridgeway, and group tours in the old train town of Tiburon.

With progressive pairing meals, guests will always be satisfied in both food and wine. Each pairing and stop is carefully orchestrated, building all the way to dessert. Everyone will walk away enriched with knowledge about the area, knowledge about the food and wine that comes from it, and with newfound friendships.
