Automate the Receiving of Beer, Liquor & Wine Products with Clear Sky Software and Fintech

Hospitality organizations now have a complete, back-office beverage inventory management solution integrated with Fintech's electronic payment system.

CHARLOTTE, NC, USA, May 23, 2018 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Clear Sky Software, Inc. ® announced today the release of a new software interface between the company's beverage inventory control system, called Clear Sky BEVERAGE and Fintech. This interface is available immediately.

Through the company's Fintech interface, users of Clear Sky BEVERAGE have a beverage tracking system that automates the process of receiving beer, liquor and wine products. Once alcohol orders arrive at a customer site, users select the Clear Sky BEVERAGE receiving function and import electronic invoices from their alcohol vendors. Product pricing is updated to current amounts and product substitutions are added to the Clear Sky BEVERAGE product master file. With this new interface, time-consuming and tedious data entry is eliminated thus saving hours and increasing accuracy and efficiency.

With this new offering from Clear Sky Software, hospitality organizations have a complete, back-office beverage inventory management solution integrated with Fintech's electronic payment system. Clear Sky BEVERAGE helps users track beverage products from the point of purchase, through receiving and the ultimate transfer to restaurants, bars, banquets or any POS outlet. Clear Sky BEVERAGE also includes physical inventory functions to speed up the process of counting bar coded and non-bar coded products.
