In addition, acclaimed Business and Executive Coach Ross Cox has been hired to assist DigitalPhone.io with strategic development, execution planning, and performance management. Mr. Cox has nearly 50 years of business experience, and is widely recognized as one of North America's leading coaches.

Individually and collectively, these talented and experienced new team members will play a key role in helping DigitalPhone.io continue expanding its nationwide footprint, and provide current and future customers with an unparalleled level of support, value and service.

This is DigitalPhone.io's second significant workforce expansion this year. In January, the company expanded its senior sales and support teams, respectively. Last year, DigitalPhone.io added two highly experienced and acclaimed executives to its leadership team: Steve Worrell, CPA as CFO, and Gary Tomlin as VP of Sales.

“There is no shortage of professionals in the labor market that have required technical knowledge when it comes to telecommunications systems and solutions,” commented CEO and Founder Nicky Smith, who launched DigitalPhone.io in 2000. “But we don't just hire for ability—we also hire for attitude, and ensure that everyone who joins our team is committed to doing what is best for our customers—and where possible, exceeding their expectations. I'm confident that our exceptional new hires align with our values and vision, and will help us succeed and grow into the future."

Added Smith: "We are also proud to create more high quality career opportunities in Greensboro, and continue helping this area thrive and grow. As the Greensboro Chamber of Commerce very wisely points out, our business community must be creative, innovative and agile to compete in attracting a 21st century workforce. We are honored and excited to be part of this solution!"
