

California Corporate Whistleblower Center Now Urges A Manager at a Construction Company That Has Proof Their Employer is Building Defective Buildings or Roads for The US Government to Call About Rewards

WASHINGTON, DC, USA, June 14, 2018 /EINPresswire.com/ -- The California Corporate Whistleblower Center says, "We are urging a construction manager or superintendent for a construction firm that builds any type of imaginable building, highways or buildings for any agency or department of the US government to call us anytime at 866-714-6466 if the completed product turned over to the government had millions of dollars of construction defects, and if the government was never told about these very serious issues. The financial rewards for this type of information could be in the hundreds of thousands of dollars or more as we would like to discuss anytime."

The types of construction defects-the California Corporate Whistleblower Center is focused in on are structural, plumbing, electrical, mechanical systems, siding/envelope or roofing defects incorporated into a recently built federal government building, highway, facility or buildings-with a special focus on the following:

- * VA Hospitals
- * Highways or freeways
- * Military Base Housing or Barracks
- * Military Administrative, Recreational or Logistics/Storage Buildings
- * Low Income Housing
- * Federal Courthouses
- * Postal Facilities
- * Special Department of Defense Building Projects

* Federal Government Research Facilities

According to the group, "If either you recently lost your job because you mentioned construction defects on a federally funded building project to your construction company bosses or you took your bosses advice and you said nothing about construction defects that will cost the federal government millions to repair-----why not call us at 866-714-6466 and let us explore the reward potential with you. Why sit on a potentially winning lotto ticket without ever knowing what it might be worth?

"We are literally talking a federally funded construction project anywhere in California or for that matter anywhere in the United States."

Simple rules for a whistleblower from the California Corporate Whistleblower Center: Do not go to the government first if you are a potential whistleblower with substantial proof of wrongdoing. The California Corporate Whistleblower Center says, "Major whistleblowers frequently go to the government thinking they will help. It's a huge mistake. Do not go to the news media with your whistleblower information. Public revelation of a whistleblower's information could destroy any prospect for a reward. Do not try to force a company/employer or individual to come clean about significant Medicare fraud, overbilling the federal government for services never rendered, multi-million-dollar state or federal tax evasion, multi-million dollar construction defects involving a federally funded construction project, or a California based company falsely claiming to be a minority owned business to get preferential treatment on federal or state projects. Come to us first, tell us what type of information you have, and if we think it's sufficient, we will help you with a focus on you getting rewarded.”
