

John Marshall IP Director Daryl Lim to Moderate American Antitrust Institute Panel on Innovation at National Press Club

CHICAGO, ILLINOIS, UNITED STATES , May 31, 2018 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Professor Daryl Lim, Director of The John Marshall Law School's Center for Intellectual Property, Information & Privacy Law, will moderate an innovation panel discussion at the 19th Annual American Antitrust Institute Conference, "Antitrust at a Crossroads: Plotting the Policy Course for the Next Decade," on June 21, at the National Press Club in Washington, D.C.

The AAI conference will feature four moderated panels that navigate key issues at the intersection of IP and antitrust, as well as a keynote address from Makan Delrahim, Assistant Attorney General of the Antitrust Division, U.S. Department of Justice. Other conference speakers include the former antitrust head of the DOJ, a former Commissioner of the Federal Trade Commission, the FTC's chief IP counsel, and a top litigator on IP-antitrust issues.

"We are at an inflection point on how we should foster innovation, with powerfully persuasive forces tugging the application of antitrust law in completely different directions," says Lim. "The finest minds in antitrust are gathering for this important discussion, and I am honored to act as moderator."

At the conference, AAI will also present Senator Amy Klobuchar, Ranking Member on the Senate Subcommittee on Antitrust, Competition Policy and Consumer Rights, with the 2018 Alfred E. Kahn Award for Antitrust Achievement.

Full conference details are available online at <http://www.antitrustinstitute.org/sites/default/files/AgendaAC2018.pdf>

John Marshall's Intellectual Property Law program was ranked #15 in the nation by U.S. News & World Report's 2019 Best Graduate Schools and has been continuously ranked since the IP rankings began in 2000. The Center for Intellectual Property, Information & Privacy Law offers an LLM in Intellectual Property Law, for practicing attorneys, and an MJ in Intellectual Property Law, for non-attorneys.
