

SMI's 13th Annual Industry Leading Cold Chain Distribution Conference Returns to London, UK this December

LONDON, UNITED KINGDOM, June 7, 2018 /EINPresswire.com/ -- SMI Group are delighted to welcome expertise from a senior panel of big pharma and cold chain organisations and regulatory bodies, at the 13th annual industry leading conference on Cold Chain Distribution 2018, taking place this December in the City of London, UK.

Outstanding Speaker line-up:

The event will address the impact of the overwhelming digitalisation of the supply chain process and how companies from biotech's to pharma, need to adapt. It will also explore the crucial challenges of supply chain visibility and data integrity in the cold chain industry. Hear from industry experts such as the IATA, MHRA, SeerPharma (UK), GSK, Sanofi Genzyme Europe, MSF and more!

Reasons to Attend:

- Evaluate the current GDP guidelines, with reference to the recently published PQG/ECA guide and discover the implications for everyday practise
- Explore the overwhelming digitalisation of the supply chain and identify the subsequent security issues involved
- Discover the temperature controlled logistic solutions to best optimize your supply chain
- Discuss the technical agreements within the supply chain and find out what questions you should be asking
- Identify the challenges for the supply chain within emerging markets and discover the best solutions for optimization of your process
