LOS ANGELES, CA, USA, June 13, 2018 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Wake up with Scott D. Stewart's entertainment talk show, “What’s Up Orange County” as it launches its 9th season premiering at 6:30am (PST) on KDOC Los Angeles on Saturday, June 23rd. KDOC Los Angeles, based in the heart of Orange County, broadcasts to the entire Los Angeles television market of 5.6 million homes, drawing nearly one million viewers per week.

This is Stewart’s 9th year of “What’s Up Orange County”, with its entertaining mix of celebrity interviews, updates on styles for fashion and inside the home and reports on the latest new things to do in Southern California. New this year will be correspondents Julie Kidd, Mindy Laven and Robin Griffin giving their reports on comedy, DIY projects, and local events.

Some of the celebrities on the upcoming season include: Tyra Banks, Jennifer Lopez, Martha Stewart, Sammy Hagar, Marie Osmond and Carrie Ann Inaba from “Dancing with the Stars.”

“I call the show the fast track to what’s up in Southern California,” Stewart said.

Besides airing weekly on KDOC, the show also has grown in subscribers on its Youtube.com channel with the majority of its views in the prized 25-54 age group.

Over the hundreds of celebrities Stewart has interviewed, some of which include Carol Burnett, Jon Voight, Nigel Lythgoe, Babyface, Perez Hilton just to name a few. He has also interviewed nearly all the past and current members of “The Real Housewives of Orange County”.

When he is not hosting the show, Stewart is busy serving as host/emcee and performer for a variety of live shows including “Ms. America Pageant,” and the “The Academy of Country Music Association.”
