

Conscious Conception Expert Nina Ketscher to be Featured on CUTV News Radio

FOLSOM, CALIFORNIA, UNITED STATES, June 19, 2018

/EINPresswire.com/ -- By expanding our view on conception, pregnancy, birth, and parenting, we can create new generations of strong, conscious and loving children, equipped to face the challenges of our modern world.

Nina Ketscher specializes in conscious conception, reducing and regulating stress for women before, during and after pregnancy through each stage of their child's development.

“Conscious conception is about both parents being aware that they are bringing a soul into the world. With that intention and focus, they're creating a child who is connected more consciously with themselves, who they are, what their purpose is in life,” says Nina. “When parents are conscious about conceiving a child, not only do the parents feel more connected and bonded with their child, but that child also feels their parents really wanted them. It can make a huge difference for how they experience relationships, to themselves and the world.”

Nina works with couples and mothers, offering healing work prior to conception, addressing belief systems, patterns of behavior, to create an optimal environment for bringing a child into the world. Nina empowers parents to commit to mindful daily practices that keep them connected with themselves and whatever healing they need to do along the way.

“This work really gives them a foundation of strength,” says Nina. “These children become very strong and very clear about who they are and what they're here to do, which prevents them from being distracted by the material world.”

Nina blends somatic and prenatal and perinatal psychology, energy work and mantra meditation into her healing practice. According to Nina, conscious conception, pregnancy and birth can prevent, not only post-partum depression, but birth interventions and behavioral outcomes.

“I think knowledge and practice is key. And this type of knowledge that I learned has been hidden for such a long time,” says Nina. “When we can raise our vibration, we can reach a higher stage of consciousness. And then we're actually able to heal and transcend, transform all blocked patterns.”

"I am humbled in my work and feel confident that, with Divine grace, I've been able to guide people toward healing," says Nina. "Clients say, 'I don't even think about the problems I came in with anymore. I don't have those problems any more.'"

CUTV News Radio will feature Nina Ketscher in an interview with Jim Masters on June 21st at 12pm EDT and with Doug Llewelyn on June 28th at 12pm.
