

Aspire Systems and Sauce Labs Partner to Accelerate Continuous Testing for Large Enterprises

Aspire's Quality Engineering Got a Continuous Testing Boost with Sauce Labs Partnership!

SAN JOSE, CA, USA, June 19, 2018 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Aspire Systems, a global provider of technology services, today announced its partnership with Sauce Labs, world's leading provider of Continuous Testing Cloud for manual & automated testing across hundreds of browsers and thousands of mobile devices. Aspire has two decades of experience in building and modernizing custom, agile products to support end to end Continuous Delivery. Sauce Labs and Aspire Systems enable enterprises to augment their Continuous Delivery efforts and accelerate their journey towards the organization's DevOps Pipeline Automation goals.

Aspire's Integrated Test Automation Solution, AFTA (Aspire Framework for Test Automation) can integrate seamlessly with Sauce Labs and significantly reduce Test Automation efforts enabling companies to release faster and become more competitive.

Business Development,
Sauce Labs*

“We're excited to partner with Sauce Labs as it will allow us to enable our customers to move their test automation on cloud and also meet the ever growing challenge of multi-platform/device testing” said Janaki Jayachandran, Vice President - Testing from Aspire Systems.

The partnership will combine Sauce Labs' leading continuous testing cloud service with Aspire's DevOps and automation expertise to help customers implement comprehensive test automation strategies that improve the quality of their applications and increase the speed at which they deliver new features.

“As customers increasingly adopt continuous testing, it's important that we work with skilled partners that have the right technical expertise to help enterprises implement comprehensive DevOps and automation strategies. Aspire fits that to a tee” said John Coyle, Vice President, Business Development, Sauce Labs. “They have a deep bench of automation experts and a long history of making customers successful. We look forward to building a long and lasting partnership with Aspire.”

Aspire and Sauce Labs will be conducting joint marketing events in the near future to highlight the partnership and the value of continuous testing.
