

Roma Experience Sponsors International Nanotechnology Conference Inside the Roman Forum

The event is held at the Noble Chemical Pharmaceutical College founded in 1429 in Rome

ROME, ITALY, June 21, 2018 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Roma Experience is proud to announce its participation as one of the lead sponsors in the Nanotechnology Conference held by the Istituto Superiore di Sanità in Rome Italy. Participants include some of the top scientists from leading research centers such as: Memorial Sloan Kettering, NY; Istituto di Ricerche Farmacologiche, Milano; University of Ege, Turkey and Northwestern University, Boston as well as many others.

Thanks to the various sponsors, the Istituto Superiore di Sanità offered an amazing “apericena” the 19th of June in one of the most exclusive locations in the ancient city in Rome, the Nobile Collegio Chimico Farmaceutico Universitas Aromatariorum Urbis.

The Noble Chemical Pharmaceutical College was founded in Rome on March 8, 1429 and is housed inside the temple of Antonino and Faustina. The temple was built after the death of the empress Faustina in 141 and was dedicated to her by the Senate. In the 7th century, the temple was converted into the church of San Lorenzo in Miranda, in the heart of the Roman Forum. The Nobile Collegio houses some amazing artifacts related to the ancient profession of pharmacists.

Robert Pardi, Business Development Office, said: “we are very happy to be sponsors of an event that truly is a one of a kind, unique experience”.
