List helps avid readers make quality decisions, shine light on books worth reading

NEW YORK, NEW YORK, UNITED STATES, June 25, 2018 /EINPresswire.com/ -- If you love books, any summer is a good one. Award-winning Journalist, Fran Briggs recently recognized ten books as among the best of summer reading, 2018. The annual promotion puts the spotlight on a select group of emerging and established international authors from Los Angeles, to New York; to the U.K., and Asia.

The Best of Summer Reading, 2018, is organized by title, author, publisher, a short synopsis, and a link for additional information and purchase. Genres include science-fiction; western; children's; mystery; humor; spiritual; wisdom, and urban literature.

"Try as one might, one could never read all the best books of summer. However, this diverse group of authors pride themselves on giving readers opportunities to be stunningly fulfilled," stated Briggs.

Briggs pointed out that "The books do not represent a series of 'greatest hits.' They were selected to showcase each author's literary vision through their subject, creativity, impact, and influence. Showcased is each author's distinguished contribution to the literary world," she concluded.
