

Tarps Now Launches Premium Grade Tarps for Farming

Tarps Now® Expands its Product Roster to Include High Grade Tarps for Hay Farming

ST. JOSEPH, MICHIGAN, UNITED STATES, June 26, 2018

/EINPresswire.com/ -- ST. JOSEPH, MICHIGAN, UNITED STATES – Increased demand for Hay Tarps and related high grade agricultural tarp coverings has proven to be a catalyst for expanding offerings of tarps and coverings used in the production of hay and other farm products. Noting that unprotected hay is subject to 25 percent loss due to weathering and exposure, Tarps Now has underwritten the manufacture high quality Heavy Duty Hay Tarps that feature reinforced poly material that are also resistant to Ultra-Violet Radiation. This approach is being used because to increase farm profitability, as lower grade fabrics often used by farmers across North America were far less durable.

In addition to the premium grade of fabrics utilized, the premium grade of hay tarps manufactured also feature brass spur grommets every two feet and 2-inch loops of webbing every four feet along the perimeter. This proprietary design ensures secure fitting and easy anchoring of ropes, spiral pins, pipes and posts.

Heavy Duty Farm Hay Tarps:

Manufactured in the United States, Tarps Now Hay Tarps have a silver exterior to reflect sunlight and reduce interior heat. Not only do hay tarps protect your product from damaging outdoor elements; the hay tarps also organize and consolidate your hay, providing easier transporting to indoor storage. To suit your needs, we offer our hay tarps in a variety of sizes.
