More on Vacation Bible School

Vacation Bible School can be a great summer experience for any child, despite religious views. We are so pleased to be able to support this noble cause.”

Glen Lerner

Vacation Bible School is a summer camp style program that aims to instill Christian morals and valuable life lessons into youth through fun and activities in a more relaxed environment than typical church services. This year's theme is “Stay fit, Stay healthy, Stay strong.” Activities at King's Dominion for the week will include field trips, culinary classes, basketball, kickball, arts and crafts, fun education through Bible characters and stories, and so much more! Breakfast and lunch will be provided for participating kids every day of the event. Even more exciting, we will be holding a bar-b-que on Thursday and Friday, and a game-truck will be present on Friday to provide unlimited amounts of fun. There's no cost for Vacation Bible School, and you don't have to be a member of the church. So, bring your kids to enjoy some family-friendly fun this week! Regardless of your religion, Vacation Bible School can leave a positive impact on your children.

“Vacation Bible School can be a great summer experience for any child, despite religious views. It provides an opportunity got children to learn, socialize, and have fun in a relaxed, but wholesome environment. We are so pleased to be able to support this noble cause,” said attorney Glen Lerner.
