

Explore How Artificial Intelligence is Impacting Financial Services Industry at Ai4 Finance Conference

Ai4 Finance is a high-level, application-only conference taking place in New York City at the Williamsburg Hotel on August 21st, 2018.

BROOKLYN, NY, UNITED STATES, June 27, 2018 /EINPresswire.com/ -- The Ai4 Finance Conference is an application-only gathering of business leaders, data practitioners, and AI pioneers who are applying artificial intelligence to solve today's problems and create tomorrow's opportunities. Attendees include senior leaders from top institutional banks, asset managers, insurance providers and credit card companies. Thanks to the convergence of modern computing power and data science, the financial services industry is leveraging AI to create entirely new value.

Confirmed speakers at the conference include:

Manuela Veloso, Head of AI Research, JP Morgan

Mike Schuster, Managing Director, TwoSigma

Li Deng, Chief AI Officer, Citadel

Agus Sudjianto, EVP & Head of Corporate Model Risk, Wells Fargo

Senior leaders at financial institutions can find the Ai4 Finance application here to be considered.

Common AI applications for the financial services industry include cybersecurity, loan & insurance underwriting, chatbots, alternative data, algorithmic trading, robo-advisors, fraud detection, credit scoring, and compliance. Financial institutions are making use of artificial intelligence at every level, causing company-wide changes in internal operations, investment decisions, and consumer products.

The Ai4 Finance conference is designed to highlight the most valuable examples, delivering specific use cases and actionable insights. Ai4 is focused on answering one highly practical question: How can I enhance my business using AI today?

Some uses cases that attendees will encounter at Ai4 Finance include: a retail bank using AI to streamline the customer experience through the use of chatbots; a hedge fund leveraging artificial intelligence to run algorithmic trading models to maximize returns; and a lender extending credit to a new demographic through the analysis of alternative data.

Ai4 Finance is part of the larger Ai4 Conference Series which organizes application-only & industry-specific conferences centered around AI applications. Be on the lookout for Ai4 Healthcare, Ai4

Retail, among others. The organizers behind Ai4 have also convened tens of thousands of people for the future festival known as Worlds Fair Nano.
