The Forbes Technology Council is an invitation-only community for senior-level tech executives. Members are recruited and selected for the Council not just on the basis of career success, but on their diversity of perspective and willingness to give as much as they gain based on their depth and diversity of experience. The council brings members together in communities tailored to their industry so that they can connect with others best positioned to help them overcome challenges and create new opportunities as well as weigh in at the highest level in the private sector and government on policies and emerging technical trends as experts.

Barry Henthorn, CEO of ReelTime stated: "I am looking forward on working alongside some of the most brilliant minds in technology that Forbes has assembled in this council. Forbes has long been a facilitator of some of the greatest think tanks throughout its history. I am very honored to now be a part of that rich history and to have the opportunity to write for such a trusted and iconic source of business news."
