

Phonexa Exhibiting at Affiliate Summit East 2018

GLENDALE , CA, USA, July 4, 2018 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Phonexa, the leading all-in-one platform for ROI-driven marketing, has announced that it will be exhibiting at this year's Affiliate Summit East in New York.

Affiliate Summit, which hosts two events in the United States, in Las Vegas and New York, will be held at the New York Marriott Marquis from July 29-31. The two-decade-old global conference and tradeshow expects to host thousands of digital marketers from over 70 countries.

Key attendees typically include C-suite executives and top decision-makers from a variety of different industries all within the lead generation space. The individuals, agencies and service providers amass at Affiliate Summit to grow their network and learn from other industry experts.

Phonexa announced earlier this year that they are taking the lead in eliminating integration fees in order to create a more client-friendly business practice. The accumulated cost of API integrations is often a serious roadblock for companies who need to upgrade their existing systems. With the costs of integrations out of the picture, businesses can allocate more of their budget and effort towards creating better products and marketing campaigns. Phonexa's client-focused business practice should be well-received at the 2018 Affiliate Summit East, as thousands of brand representatives and industry leaders collectively hunt for value-driven solutions.

The packed agenda at Affiliate Summit East provides each different attendee with relevant workshops, networking opportunities and valuable takeaways; equipping affiliates, networks, technology providers and digital agencies with the appropriate strategies and industry knowledge they came to acquire.

Technology exhibitors, such as Phonexa, and companies from nearly every industry are welcome to hear from notable speakers, showcase their products and share their expertise. There is something for everyone at the conference, which is why Affiliate Summit has gained a significant amount of loyal attendees over the course of two successful decades.
