“Veterans are so important to our American history,” said Ian Bongaardt, owner of Comfort Keepers of Montgomery County and the Main Line. “We at Comfort Keepers work with many on a day to day basis.”

“It's only right to honor and celebrate their bravery and dedication,” Bongaardt said, “I am really looking forward to this event.”

Comfort Keepers of Montgomery County and the Main Line works closely with veterans on a day to day basis. Many veterans could potentially qualify for veteran benefits through the Aid and Attendance Program, which would cover the cost of in-home care. If you are in need of in-home care and are a veteran or even a spouse of a veteran, you may be offered pension benefits from the Veterans Administration.

The Veterans Aid and Attendance Program could be the answer to covering in-home senior care service costs. If you are questioning if you or your loved one is eligible for such benefits, Comfort

Keepers is ready to help assist in the process of accessing information and evaluating eligibility for the benefits program.

Some basic requirements to qualify are as follows:

- Veteran or spouse of a veteran
- If a widow, you cannot be re-married
- 65 years old or older
- Veteran that has served a minimum of 90 days of active military service
- Discharged under any condition, except dishonorably
- Must be in need of personal care services such as feeding, showering, etc.
- Falls below the annual income threshold

If you or your loved one meets any of these basic qualifications, you or they may qualify for pension benefits from the Veterans Administration Aid and Attendance Program. For further information and assistance, contact Comfort Keepers of Montgomery County and the Main Line today to learn more.

“Many veterans and their family members are not fully informed about the benefits they can receive,” Bongaardt said, “which could potentially help cover the costs of in-home senior care and take a financial burden off of families.”

Bongaardt continued, “We hope this event will show our veteran clients, their families, and any veterans considering in-home care that we are appreciative of their services and ready to now honorably serve them.”

Comfort Keepers looks forward to honoring America’s veterans at the Honor our Veterans event and also every day they’re taken care of through in-home care services. This event will be a time to reflect on our country’s history while embracing a healthy and happy future for our veterans.
