Nine of the twelve SFOs within the eQuine MFO exceeded 100% returns for Q2 of 2018, largely due to Rent-A-Center (RCII) and Amplify Brands (BETR) both being acquired. Managing Director & CEO, Brent Atwood, stated, “We are firing on all cylinders, and frankly, we crushed our own internal forecast for the quarter and are well on track to meet or exceed our forecast for 2018. Two of our major holdings being acquired shows that our algorithms continue to find great opportunities for our Single-Family Offices”.

The change of Corporate Counsel from Gruber Hail Johansen and Shank to Dorsey Law Firm.

The addition of two new Single-Family Office to the eQuine MFO bringing the total to fourteen (14).

eQuine Holdings has been designated as a “Large Trader” under SEC rule 13(h) of the Securities and Exchange Act of 1934 and is complying with the SEC filing request for LTID status in the current quarter. The company expects to file as inactive at the end of Q3 2018, as we expect to better manage the trading volumes related to rule 13(h).

eQuine deploys a strategy that algorithmically detects anomalies created by illegal abusive naked short selling and illegal use of deep in the money calls used to reset RegSHO buy-in requirements, and position trades directly against the illegal activities of abusive naked short sellers.
