

RE/MAX Executives Launches New Site Giving Idaho Real Estate Buyers Access to the Newest Listings

RE/MAX Executives with offices in Nampa and Eagle, Idaho, launches a new website giving Idaho real estate buyers access to fresh listings in Intermountain MLS.

NAMPA, IN, USA, July 10, 2018 /EINPresswire.com/ -- RE/MAX Executives, a real estate brokerage with offices in Nampa and Eagle, Idaho, has launched a new website giving real estate buyers in Idaho access to the newest real estate listings in the Intermountain MLS.

RE/MAX Executives allows home buyers and sellers in the public to search for Idaho real estate listings using many of the same advanced search criteria that agents and brokers use. Data is refreshed several times a day from the MLS, and new information on Treasure Valley communities is added regularly to help out of state buyers become familiar with neighborhoods.

Broker Yuri Blanco says that demand has increased dramatically for a mobile friendly real estate search tool that has up-to-date listing data.

"It's frustrating for buyers to find properties on the big national websites and approach one of our agents only to find that the price or listing status is out of date," she said. "It's much better for the public to get accurate real estate data right from the start."

With nearly 50 agents serving the Treasure Valley in two office (Nampa and Eagle), she says RE/MAX Executives is one of the fastest growing offices in the Boise area.

"We have agents that specialize in Canyon County cities like Nampa and Caldwell, and agents that specialize in Ada County cities like Boise and Eagle," Blanco said. "In addition, we have agents that focus on particular types of real estate, like commercial properties, ranch properties, or recreational properties."

She says her agents are ranked highly by customers, as well.

"Our reviews are consistently four- and five-star reviews from clients, and we're extremely proud of that," Blanco said. "We work with our clients to help them through the process no matter what their experience level, and they appreciate that."

She says the current sellers market has increased demand for properties to show, and the new website will help showcase those listings.

"Whether you're a buyer or seller," she says, "you can find the help you need at www.Idaho4RealEstate.com."
