Atwood has led eQuine since 2009 when he and his partner, John Cooley seized an opportunity to assist Legacy Families through the "great recession", inclusive of his own Single Family Office, and together they have posted returns for their Multi-Family Office that have outperformed the Dow, Nasdaq and S&P indexes by a staggering margin over the same time period, inclusive of 2016 when eQuine posted returns in excess of 500% for the fiscal year.

"It has been a great pleasure working with our elite team, especially my partner, CFO, and friend John Cooley, and the fact is, other Multi Family Offices want to be like us, their people want to be like us, but we are the original that broke the mold. I'm proud of the work we have done, and even prouder that we have performed at the highest standards as a Multi-Family Office." "My family recently spent our annual vacation at the Amalfi Coast and we fell in love with the people and the culture. We've realized there is a big world out there we want to see.", stated Atwood.
