Chris Pittman, M.D., CEO of Health Performance Specialists

announced today the advisory board appointment of Marlin W. Schul, MD, MBA, RVT, FACPh. Dr. Schul is Medical Director and CEO of Lafayette Regional Vein and Laser Center, President-Elect of the American College of Phlebology, and author of Practical Phlebology: Starting and Managing a Phlebology Practice. Dr. Schul was specifically selected for his combination of leadership in venous and lymphatic medicine, academic achievements, and practical experience in operating and managing a successful vein treatment center.

Dr. Schul received his medical degree from Indiana University and completed a categorical residency in Emergency Medicine at Methodist Hospital, Indianapolis, Indiana. He transitioned his career to Venous & Lymphatic Medicine in 2002 after receiving immersion training in the comprehensive management of venous and lymphatic disease. His research background spans medical school, residency, and private practice yielding over one dozen peer-reviewed journal publications and multiple research grant awards. Dr. Schul is a Diplomate of the American Board of Venous and Lymphatic Medicine and board certified by the American Board of Emergency Medicine. He is a Fellow of the American College of Phlebology, Distinguished Fellow of the American Venous Forum, and member of the American Medical Association, Indiana State Medical Association, and the Tippecanoe County Medical Society.

"We are very excited that Dr. Schul will be serving on our advisory board," said Chris Pittman, M.D., CEO of Health Performance Specialists. "He is a nationally and internationally recognized venous and lymphatic medicine expert including thermal ablation techniques -- both Endovenous Laser Treatment and Radiofrequency Ablation, Ambulatory Phlebectomy and other microsurgical techniques, as well as DVT and PE blood clot diagnosis and management. Dr. Schul is very well respected by our venous and lymphatic medicine colleagues and literally wrote the book on managing a vein care practice."
