

AUS Air Conditioning of Texas Offers Emergency Services All Day, Every Day

A-US Air Conditioning of Texas company offers 24/7 protection from the heat this summer with an exclusive hotline.

GARLAND, TEXAS, UNITED STATES, August 14, 2018 /EINPresswire.com/ --

A-US Air Conditioning of Texas is fully aware of the heat that can befall each Texas summer day. The index can be scorching and dangerous. Depending on how hot the day is, dictates the number of people is in danger. Yet, customers don't want to risk the element of the threat posed to their families during the summer. AUS Air Conditioning doesn't want to take that gamble either.

However, when an emergency strikes, it is rarely considerate in its timing. Often, a broken HVAC system comes at the worst time. If the system breaks during the day, it is on a weekend, or after five. Otherwise, it breaks in the middle of the night. Unfortunately for these types of potentially dangerous emergencies, they rarely happen during business hours. Thankfully, A-US Air Conditioning of Texas realizes this and set up an emergency hotline to rectify this issue.

The Hotline

A-US Air Conditioning of Texas has a hotline that has always been available to anyone in the Dallas/Fort Worth area. However, recently, the company has expanded to include the San Antonio, Tyler, Longview, Austin, Bryan/ College Station and Wichita Falls areas. With this expansion, the hotline has expanded too. It does not matter whether the emergency happens at 5:01 pm on Monday evening, 4:00 am on Saturday morning, or on holidays.

The hotline number is 972-414-1658. There are forty technicians throughout specific areas, ready to take the call. There is no extra charge for this type of service call. Plus, the technician will be able to diagnose and service the issue quickly and efficiently there is no need to wait for business hours for any reason.

Experienced Professionals

A-US Air Conditioning has over four decades of experience. Therefore, they are confident in their ability to assess and fix the emergency quickly and affordable. The community is the backbone of this company. Thus, the need to keep the community safe is important to AUS Air Conditioning. Do not let an emergency turn into something more. Get the professional assistance needed by calling the forty-year professionals, A-US Air Conditioning of Texas.

Examples of an Emergency

Of course, within the realm of AUS Air Conditioning expertise, there are different situations which constitute an emergency. Simple service calls will be scheduled during business hours.

However, here are the emergency situations where AUS Air Conditioning should be contacted right away:

The smell of gas
You have no heat
You have no air conditioning

These three examples are potentially life-threatening scenarios and should be treated as such. Therefore, if any of these occurrences happen, please contact AUS Air Conditioning immediately. The issue could be severe, or simple. Either way, it needs to be rectified as soon as possible.

To close, A-US Air Conditioning of Texas wants to keep their clients safe, whether they are on the clock, or not. Thus, they are proud to be able to offer this hotline, to get clients service quickly and efficiently. Depending on the details of the day and the clients in distress, this hotline could save a life. Remember, the number for this hotline is 972-414-1658. Remember, there is NO extra cost and the line is open 24/7.
