

Blue Light Introduces Blue Fusion™ for IBM® i2® Analyst's Notebook

Blue Light is now announcing the worldwide availability of Blue Fusion™, a solution demonstrated to save analysts 80% of their investigative time.

FAYETTEVILLE, NORTH CAROLINA, UNITED STATES, August 20, 2018 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Blue Light LLC, based in Fayetteville, NC, is a preeminent strategic IBM® business partner focused on the IBM® i2® Suite of Analytical software products.

Formed in 2004 to provide training and implementation services for Analyst's Notebook users, Blue Light now supports a worldwide customer base representing all industries, including military/defense, law enforcement, healthcare, financial services, insurance, government agencies and more.

Blue Fusion has been demonstrated to save analysts 80% of the time formerly spent connecting to and querying data sources needed for their investigative cycle.”

Blue Light LLC

Blue Light now focuses on providing conveniently packaged solutions of i2® Analysts Notebook, iBase, and EIA. These solutions are bundled with our consulting services, which guarantee to have agencies operating quickly, and our comprehensive training programs – ranging from web-based self-paced to web-based or in-person instructor-led and on-site private classes.

Blue Light is now announcing the worldwide availability of Blue Fusion™, a customer installable software solution that addresses a chronic productivity stumbling block for workgroups of 1-10 Analyst's Notebook users. Blue Fusion, through an intuitive and visual dashboard, manages the connectivity, access, storage and sharing tasks associated to data sources that teams of Analyst's Notebook users need to access.

Blue Fusion™ includes an internal data warehouse that allows for data that has been accessed from locally connected databases, structured or unstructured files, or via federated searches of live data sources, to be stored and shared among multiple users. Blue Fusion™ has been demonstrated to save analysts 80% of the time formerly spent connecting to and querying data sources needed for their investigative cycle.

Blue Fusion™ can be acquired as an add-on productivity tool for existing workgroups of Analyst's Notebook or to support federated searches for EIA installations. In addition, Blue Light offers convenient and cost-effective packaging of Blue Fusion™ together with our internationally-recognized training programs, saving customers time and money.
