

Plasma Pen Pro (PPP), the Global leaders in Plasma Fibroblast Training, are Taking Their Talents to San Francisco, CA

Plasma Pen Pro are bringing the latest in Plasma Fibroblast training and certification to the USA using the latest equipment and techniques available today.

SAN FRANCISCO, CALIFORNIA, USA, August 20, 2018 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Fighting the effects of aging or too much stress or sun on the skin can be quite a challenge. The good news is the latest in beauty skin treatments using a plasma fibroblast pen can have dramatically positive effects when delivered by a skilled technician. The good news for North Americans is the worldwide leader in Plasma Fibroblast Training and Certification Rose Cruz and Plasma Pen Pro will be making a number of teaching and certification dates in the USA starting November 2018, opening the door to learning and being able to perform a much-in-demand beauty technique. This can be a valuable skill in a very competitive industry.

"Plasma Pen certification changes many lives for the better," remarked Cruz.

"Plasma Pen Pro has made it as easy as possible to learn the method and to begin being able to personally help clients after being certified by us. We are really looking forward to our hands-on USA teaching events."

The Plasma Pen Fibroblast treatments work by creating an electric charge, called an ARC, that is focused on the surface of the skin. It then uses this to create a controlled burn, or carbonization of the skin, which leads to skin tightening, wrinkle removal or reduction, scar reduction, tummy tucks, as well as, remove skin tags, warts, blemishes, and just overall make skin seem more vibrant and youthful.

The entire process is safe, in the hands of a trained PPP professional, and requires no surgery and only 5-7 days of social downtime. Rose Cruz and Plasma Pen Pro have been recognized as the "best-of-the-best" in the training and certification of this exciting method.

Rose Cruz and Plasma Pen Professionals (PPP) group have trained students from around the world, and are now taking their highly regarded PPP Training and Certification program to the world, starting with the USA this November 2018 in San Francisco, California. Other dates and locations include Las Vegas, Detroit, Orlando, Charlotte, and many more to be listed on their www.plasmapenpro.com website.

The cost of the program is $4250USD, and includes: Plamere Plasma Pen, Training, Live Model Training, Manual, PPP KIT. This system has contains everything a student needs in order to start working immediately after they receive their Plasma Pen Pro Certification.

Plasma Pen Professionals (PPP) will be using the FDA approved Plamere Plasma Pen to teach and train the future PPP professionals in this art. "It may seem as though we are just placing dots on the face randomly and sporadically, but there is an art and a science to dot placement, in order to get the results we are looking for" says Rose Cruz, who has been in the beauty industry for over 25 years. "We've trained hundreds of students from around the globe, and there are still millions more techs that don't even know this treatment exists, and millions of potential clients that don't know this alternative treatment to botox and surgical facelifts is even an option".

Most beauticians in the industry charge between $500 - $3000 per treatment, depending on the area being treated, and most technicians make between $10,000 and $25,000 per month, depending on their workload.

Plasma Pen Professionals (PPP) are the global leaders in the Plasma Fibroblast industry for one reason - their ability to train others in the proper technique of PPP. Students that leave the training program, usually leave as professionals in the industry, confident that they can perform these treatments in their own office, on their own clients, and manage to get the same or similar results as those obtained by Plasma Pen Professionals.
