Evan Blackstone

“The 5 camera Live switched stream made for a truly unique, powerful and personal experience for the kids, their families, the artist and the audience. The experience was provided to the patients for free and no fees were paid to the artists participating.

“Megs McLean was the first “Crunge” artists to participate and her cutting edge sound was very well received and enjoyed by those that were able to experience it. I was blown away by both the performances and generosity by Megs and Sara Evans in support.” Said Evan Blackstone, Artist/Rockstar Liaison, Melodic Caring Project

Megs and Sara both specifically called out the individual names of the children watching the live private broadcast during their shows to personalize the concert experience for the kids and their families.

Megs said, “I am truly touched to have my music included in this Live stream and want to thank MCP from the bottom of my heart for the amazing work they do through this program, to care for hospitalized kids thru a musical experience. This is such an amazing program, I’m honored to be a part of it."
