PISCATAWAY., NJ, USA, September 2, 2018
/EINPresswire.com/ -- Anny Khan's Za's Pages and Dr. Raj Gupta's Pain Instacare launch their expansion into the tristate area with a big Bollywood style party at the Deewan Banquet Hall in Edison.

It was quite evident why Za's pages has become a cultural icon and is the it magazine for covering and promoting the culture and business interests of people from the Indian sub-continent. Anny Khan was the star of the show, the very face of elegance and beauty.

Za's Pages is a hit magazine covering and promoting cultural, social and celebrity icons and companies from the Indian sub-continent. It has already taken the top spot in the Florida area and has now moved into the tristate area, where it is much needed.

From his body language to the words Dr. Gupta spoke, his brilliance and expertise were on full display. I would call Dr. Gupta, 'The painless pain doctor.' His quote, 'Having pain is inevitable! Living in pain is optional!' made us aware that pain can be managed!

Pain Instacare has had a very successful run for the last 12 years in the Philadelphia area and as a first step to expanding globally it has now moved into our tristate area.

The Next Oprah.

“

The people of the world deserve the brain childs respectively, of Dr. Gupta and Anny Khan. The launch into our tristate area is a much needed and a very good start.”

Sajid Khan, Thank you Raj and Anny.

Watch out NJ/NY and CT, thanks to the cutting edge innovations of Dr. Gupta in pain management suffering is moving out and pleasure is moving in into our area.

There was a huge group of celebrities who made the evening entertaining, including the very epitome of Indian publishing in America, Sunil Hali. He gave the most eloquent endorsement of both of these great entrepreneurs.
