

INVESTinNC offers a series of events highlighting equity crowdfunding for NC small businesses.

The state of North Carolina has enacted equity crowdfunding laws that allow small businesses to raise up to $2M in funding from NC residents.

RALEIGH, NC, USA, September 5, 2018 /EINPresswire.com/ -- North Carolina businesses looking to raise capital, and North Carolina residents interested in supporting local businesses, are now open to exciting new opportunities created through equity crowdfunding.

Equity crowdfunding offers a unique opportunity for North Carolina small business owners to tap into a local source of capital for growth, comprised of customers, advocates, and everyday investors."

John Panaccione

The NC PACES Act was signed into law on July 28, 2016 and became effective April 1, 2017, making it possible for startups and small business owners to raise up to $2,000,000 through equity crowdfunding. While the new regulations were put into place to foster the growth of North Carolina businesses through North Carolina investors, most small business owners and investors are unaware of the opportunities now available to them.

If you are an entrepreneur, investor, or professional services provider related to economic development, please join us for a series of in-person educational seminars to learn more about the State's new equity crowdfunding regulations and how to make them work for you:
