This flawless performer is born to dance and she pursues her passion with all dedication. Anjalica creates poetry with her moves and with her grace and finesse, she can mesmerise her audience with her performances.

She is a student of world famous choreographer and dance teacher Shiamak Davar, from whom she learned contemporary dance forms. She acquired her classical dance training under Bharatnatyam maestro Yamini Krishnamurthy. Extensive training in classical as well as popular dance forms make Anjalica a choreographer of a different class. Be it the Bollywood thumkas or the electric Hip-Hop moves or the graceful swaying of Salsa, this choreographer can nail it all.

Anjalica believes that she is truly called to teach dance. This dance studio welcomes everyone, whether you are 4 yrs old or 64, if you desire to learn dance, this is the place for you. What sets this dance studio apart from the various other dance classes out there is the choreographer's technique and methods of teaching adopted. Based on age, physical strength, dancing requirement and occasion, Anjalica tweaks her teaching to suit the student's purposes the best.

Anjalica's Dance studio specialises in unique wedding choreography where young couples are groomed to perform a scintillating dance number on their very special day. Step by step, their wedding dance is moulded to perfection in the hands of the seasoned trainer Anjalica. According to her a wedding dance has to be 2 things, romance and co-ordination. Many of the couples trained by her testify that Anjalica makes them absolutely comfortable with the dance moves thus drawing the best performances out of them.

Moving further Anjalica desires to present dance not only as an art form but a beautiful medium to achieve mental and physical fitness too. In today's stressful and overburdened world, dance can really act like a magic potion that enables people to find their true selves and lose them at the same time.

Anjalica's wedding choreography is the talk of the town and something that young couples are fascinated about. Going further, this dance studio is expected to set new standards in the field of wedding choreography and dance coaching in general.
