

Collective2 Announces Support For Cryptocurrency Trading

Trade Leaders (a.k.a. Strategy Managers) can run a free "crypto-only" strategy without any publishing fees.

NEW YORK, NEW YORK, UNITED STATES, September 10, 2018 /EINPresswire.com/ --

We find the developments and potential trading opportunities in the crypto asset space to be exciting and encourage traders to take advantage of the C2 platform to share strategies with the world.”

Roderick Casilli

Collective2 ("C2"), the world's leading trading strategy platform and marketplace, announced today support for crypto assets and a program that allows traders to manage a crypto strategy on C2 for free until Jan 2019.

Given the rapid growth of cryptocurrencies, that is now exceeding a market cap of $300 billion, traders and investors alike are looking for ways to capitalize on this new "digital asset" class.

Trade Leaders can create a "strategy" on Collective2 and trade more than 15 popular tokens including Bitcoin, Ethereum, Litecoin, Ripple, Stellar, and Cardano. Trading is available in USD and Bitcoin (BTC) denominations. Collective2 has added crypto as a newly supported instrument type along with stocks, options, futures, and forex.

"We find the developments and potential trading opportunities in the crypto asset space to be exciting and encourage traders to take advantage of the C2 platform to share cryptocurrency strategies with the world," said C2 COO Rod Casilli. "With the addition of crypto, C2 is now the only trading marketplace to offer trading in every major asset."

To start, traders can submit signals to Collective2 using the C2 WebTrader or NinjaTrader8. Complete details on the crypto trading program are covered in a recent launch webinar you can view here.
