Mediatrix successfully completes OXO Connect interoperability certification with Alcatel-Lucent Enterprise

SHERBROOKE, QUEBEC, CANADA, September 13, 2018 / EINPresswire.com/ -- Mediatrix® has successfully completed the inter-working testing with Alcatel-Lucent Enterprise (ALE) for their ALE OXO Connect™ Evolution platform, proving again its ability to build gateways highly compatible with most soft switches and PBXs worldwide. The OXO Connect Evolution is the next generation of highly scalable and reliable pure IP communications platforms brought to the SMB market by Alcatel-Lucent Enterprise.

The tests were realised between July and August 2018 in ALE's lab in India and attest the full compatibility of the

MEDIATRIX AND OXO CONNECT

Both leaders in their segments, Alcatel-Lucent Enterprise and Media5 have proven their ability to respond to the ever-changing needs of SMBs, specifically supporting the growth of small to mid-size businesses. They provide smaller companies with the high-quality connections they need to get ahead. With the business space becoming increasingly competitive, the OXO Connect Evolution is ideal for those in search of a complete, pure IP communication solution that can scale and adapt to their business.

According to Mediatrix product line manager, Eric Beaudoin, "Businesses aiming to deploy converged communications will find the Mediatrix C7, S7, and 4100 VoIP Adaptor Series to be the most reliable, cost-effective, and interoperable solution for simple installation, maintenance, and operation of the OXO Connect Evolution". He further added that "All Mediatrix VoIP gateways run the same proprietary DGW firmware and use the same FXS telephony cards, assuring compliant integration across ALE on premise systems".
