

Passport Health New York is pleased to announce Long Island City services being moved to a new convenient location!

NEW YORK, NEW YORK, USA, September 17, 2018 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Passport Health NY announces the reopening of its Long Island City office in a new, convenient location with ample transportation options—including the E, F, M, R, N, W, 7, and G trains, the Q30, Q60, and Q101 buses, and the East River Ferry. We are now located on the 13th floor of the Brewster Building at 27-01 Queens Plaza N.

Passport Health is the largest and leading provider of travel medicine and immunization services in North America. With 250+ clinic locations, a commitment to first class medical care, and rigorously trained medical staff, Passport Health sets the immunization industry standard. Passport Health has leveraged its deep experience with travel medicine to service the vaccination, wellness, examination, and records management needs of Fortune 500 corporations, US government agencies, government contractors, universities, as well as small- to large businesses and individuals.

Passport Health offers vaccinations both recommended and required for international travel and specializes in hard-to-find travel vaccines such as Anthrax, Japanese Encephalitis, Rabies, Yellow fever (currently at Mid-town and Roslyn Heights locations only), and Typhoid Fever. Patients receive one-to-one counseling from trained medical professionals whose expertise is travel medicine and immunization. Passport Health's services also include routine adult vaccinations including Hepatitis A, Hepatitis B, Influenza (flu), Meningitis, Polio, Tetanus, and Shingles. Additional locations include Midtown Manhattan, the Upper West Side, Brooklyn Heights, Roslyn Heights in Nassau County, and Holbrook in Suffolk County.

Unlike a primary care physician, Passport Health focuses on the needs of the international traveler. Our Travel Medicine Specialists, all of whom have received many hours of comprehensive in-house training, administer and recommend vaccines, medications, and specialty travel health supplies tailored to the traveler's destination. All medical services are provided in the context of a destination-specific health consultation that reviews safety tips, security information, how to mitigate the risk of insect-borne disease, food and water precautions, and even medical evacuation insurance. All of this information is summarized in a personalized, bound briefing booklet that the traveler can take overseas. In fact, most family doctors choose to send their patients to Passport Health for travel medicine services.

Dedicated to meeting the needs of this rapidly growing community, Passport Health is now also providing on-site flu clinics to corporate clients. From scheduling to staffing services, we provide everything you need for a successful flu vaccination program. An additional service is on-site biometric screenings. Chronic health problems don't always present symptoms, which is why so many people simply don't know their health is at risk. A biometric screening provides your employees with a window into their health and gives them the tools they need to kickstart or foster a healthier lifestyle.
