CHICAGO, ILLINOIS, UNITED STATES, September 17, 2018 / EINPresswire.com/ -- Weddings and holograms just might be the next big "it" couple. At least, that's if Chicago-based WeddingHolograms.com has anything to say about it.

WeddingHolograms.com, which specializes in the creation of custom 3D holographic displays for weddings and wedding receptions, recently was honored to be a vendor of choice at a prestigious Chicago wedding event.

The custom display made for the perfect amount of eye-catching drama, making WeddingHolograms.com a hit with the wedding party and guests. The use of holographic technology is still in its infancy, but a business model which allows clients to rent holographic displays is making 3D Holograms at events and weddings a more realistic option for those who want a way to wow their guests.

Guests and the wedding party alike would stop to marvel at the technology on display. But because that technology was customized, the wedding couple themselves will be what's most remembered.”

Weddings in Chicago can be spectacular affairs. And these weddings have a well-earned reputation for competing with one another. That's why the introduction of personalized hologram displays is sure to introduce a new element that happy couples can use to spice up their festivities. WeddingHolograms.com offers their clients a wide range of packages and flexibility, with the most comprehensive packages offering complete customizability of the holographic animations used.

“We're always happy to be involved in a wedding,” said Mark Smith, owner and founder of WeddingHolograms.com. “And it's not just because we're all big romantics. Weddings are a great way to really show how 3D holograms can make an impact on your everyday life for everyday people.” At the same time, Smith went on to say, hologram rentals have the ability to make an already elegant event into something extraordinary. That was certainly the case for WeddingHolograms.com's latest wedding endeavor.

Those custom wedding holograms took on various forms over the course of the event. Included in this particular event were holographic photos inside a holographic photo album (even the photos were custom--provided by the bride and groom themselves), a holographic wedding cake with customized names, a holographic wedding ring box with the couple's names highlighted, and even a floating holographic heart and butterfly display. In many ways, the sky is the limit in terms of the holographic animation desired, and each animation can be customized to produce the greatest wow factor possible. That customization is one significant reason why holograms at weddings are making such a big and lasting impression.

"Custom holograms are a great way to make your wedding day as memorable as we all hope," said Smith. At the recent celebration WeddingHolograms.com just finished contributing to, making an already memorable event stand out was certainly the goal. Guests and members of the wedding party alike would stop to marvel at the technology on display. But because that technology was customized, the wedding couple themselves will be what's most remembered.

That might be, in part, why wedding holograms are growing in popularity. It should come as no surprise that weddings in the United States tend to be viewed as symbols of both status and relationship quality. That's why Americans spend an average of $25,000 on their weddings. High end weddings are often viewed as even more significant events, almost as a kind of competitive sport. Whether your wedding is large or small, holographic 3d wedding displays can take your wedding to the next level, making your wedding a happy occasion sure to be remembered for years to come. The rental of 3D holographic displays now makes this technology more accessible than ever, which is sure to continue pushing the wedding entertainment and decoration envelope further.
