

Artist Liam Grae Set To Release Debut Single "Uniform" On October 5th, 2018

LOS ANGELES, CA, UNITED STATES, September 19, 2018 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Is there a place for a Southern Gentleman at the top of the music charts? Soul-pop artist Liam Grae is determined to find out. Born in Dallas, Texas, the 25 year old artist first cut his teeth recording demos as a child. He moved on as a stage performer in Germany, then honed his writing skills in Nashville before landing at the epicenter of pop music - Los Angeles, California.

Liam's debut single, "Uniform" is set to drop on October 5, 2018 and was co-written and recorded with Dale Antoni (The Vamps, Carlie Hanson,) produced by Andrew Furze (So You Think You Can Dance, The X Factor) and mixed by Todd Bergman (Alessia Cara, Nicki Minaj, Foster the People.)

Additional songs co-written with Liam Grae and Tommy Parker (Justin Bieber, Ariana Grande, Janet Jackson,) Hayley Warner (Tori Kelly, Nickelback,) Dale Antoni (The Vamps, Carlie Hanson) and Arielle MacArthur (Marie Osmond, John Rich) will be released later this fall.

"Uniform" is a seamless blend of classic soul and organic gospel textures, infused with danceable future pop beats. As a singer-songwriter, Liam's songs touch on what it means to be a young man in a modern world - combining humor and heart in equal measure. Collaborating with some of the most exciting pop writers in LA, Liam Grae's love of classic rat-pack singers and pop-icons has him picking up where George Michael and Robin Thicke left off.

On stage, Liam Grae's driving beats and killer rhythm section serve to make his point - that music should get people out of their chairs and look good doing it. With influences ranging from Marvin Gaye to Frank Sinatra, and with interest already pouring in, Liam Grae is set to make a huge impact in 2018.

"Uniform" will be available on all digital platforms including iTunes and Spotify, on October 5th, 2018.
