

Executive Education Academy Charter School to Offer Boys Basketball and Wrestling

High school students at Executive Education Academy Charter School now have the opportunity to enroll in varsity sports.

ALLENTOWN, PENNSYLVANIA, UNITED STATES, September 26, 2018 /EINPresswire.com/ -- As a newly appointed PIAA member, Executive Education Academy Charter School in Allentown will offer its first two competitive sports programs during the 2018-2019 school year: men's varsity basketball and wrestling.

Executive Education Charter School in Allentown is now offering varsity athletics.

The PIAA, or Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic Association, oversees all high school athletics in the state. As a member, EEACS can now compete against other public, private, and charter schools in the Lehigh Valley.

"We are starting our new athletics program off with men's varsity basketball and wrestling, but we hope to expand our athletics offerings to include more sports," says Mark "Duke" Wagner, athletic director at EEACS.

In addition to becoming a PIAA member, EEACS recently broke ground on its new, state-of-the-art gymnasium. The facility will hold 1,600 seats and span 16,000 square-feet.
