

John Marshall Law School IP Director Lim to Moderate Panel Featuring Federal Patent Appeals Judges

CHICAGO, ILLINOIS, UNITED STATES , October 1, 2018 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Professor Daryl Lim, Director of the John Marshall Law School's Center for Intellectual Property, Information & Privacy Law will moderate a panel discussion at The John Marshall Law School on Thursday, October 4, featuring judges from the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit.

The Federal Circuit hears arguments outside Washington, D.C., as part of its nationwide jurisdiction and statutory requirement to provide reasonable opportunities for citizens to appear before the court. In addition to John Marshall, the Court will hear arguments at other Chicago law schools and at the federal courthouse. A full schedule of the Court's session in Chicago is available on its website at <http://www.cafc.uscourts.gov/argument/upcoming-oral-arguments>. John Marshall is hosting Panel F.

"We are honored to be chosen to host the nation's de facto patent appeals court. It is a testament to the continued prominence of our intellectual property program for nearly 80 years. I look forward to moderating what promises to be a lively and informative discussion." Lim said.

John Marshall's Intellectual Property Law program was ranked #15 in the nation by U.S. News & World Report's 2019 Best Graduate Schools. The IP program has been continuously ranked since IP rankings began in 2000. The Center for Intellectual Property, Information & Privacy Law offers an LLM in Intellectual Property Law, for practicing attorneys, and an MJ in Intellectual Property Law, for non-attorneys, both of which can be earned entirely online.
